Summary

What's important for you to measure?

Conversion actions help you measure your customer interactions, so you can understand the success of your advertising campaigns. Categories help you group conversion actions together. For example, you may have created a purchase conversion action, which you can categorize within the Purchases category.

Choose a category to create conversion actions

Purchase

When someone completes a purchase or checkout flow

Sign-up

When someone signs up for a free newsletter or trial, creates an account, or pre-registers

1 conversion action already measured for this category

Subscribe

When someone pays to subscribe for a product or service you offer

Phone call lead

When someone calls your business and expresses an interest in your offering

Finish setting up your conversions

Review the steps below to ensure your conversions can be measured correctly

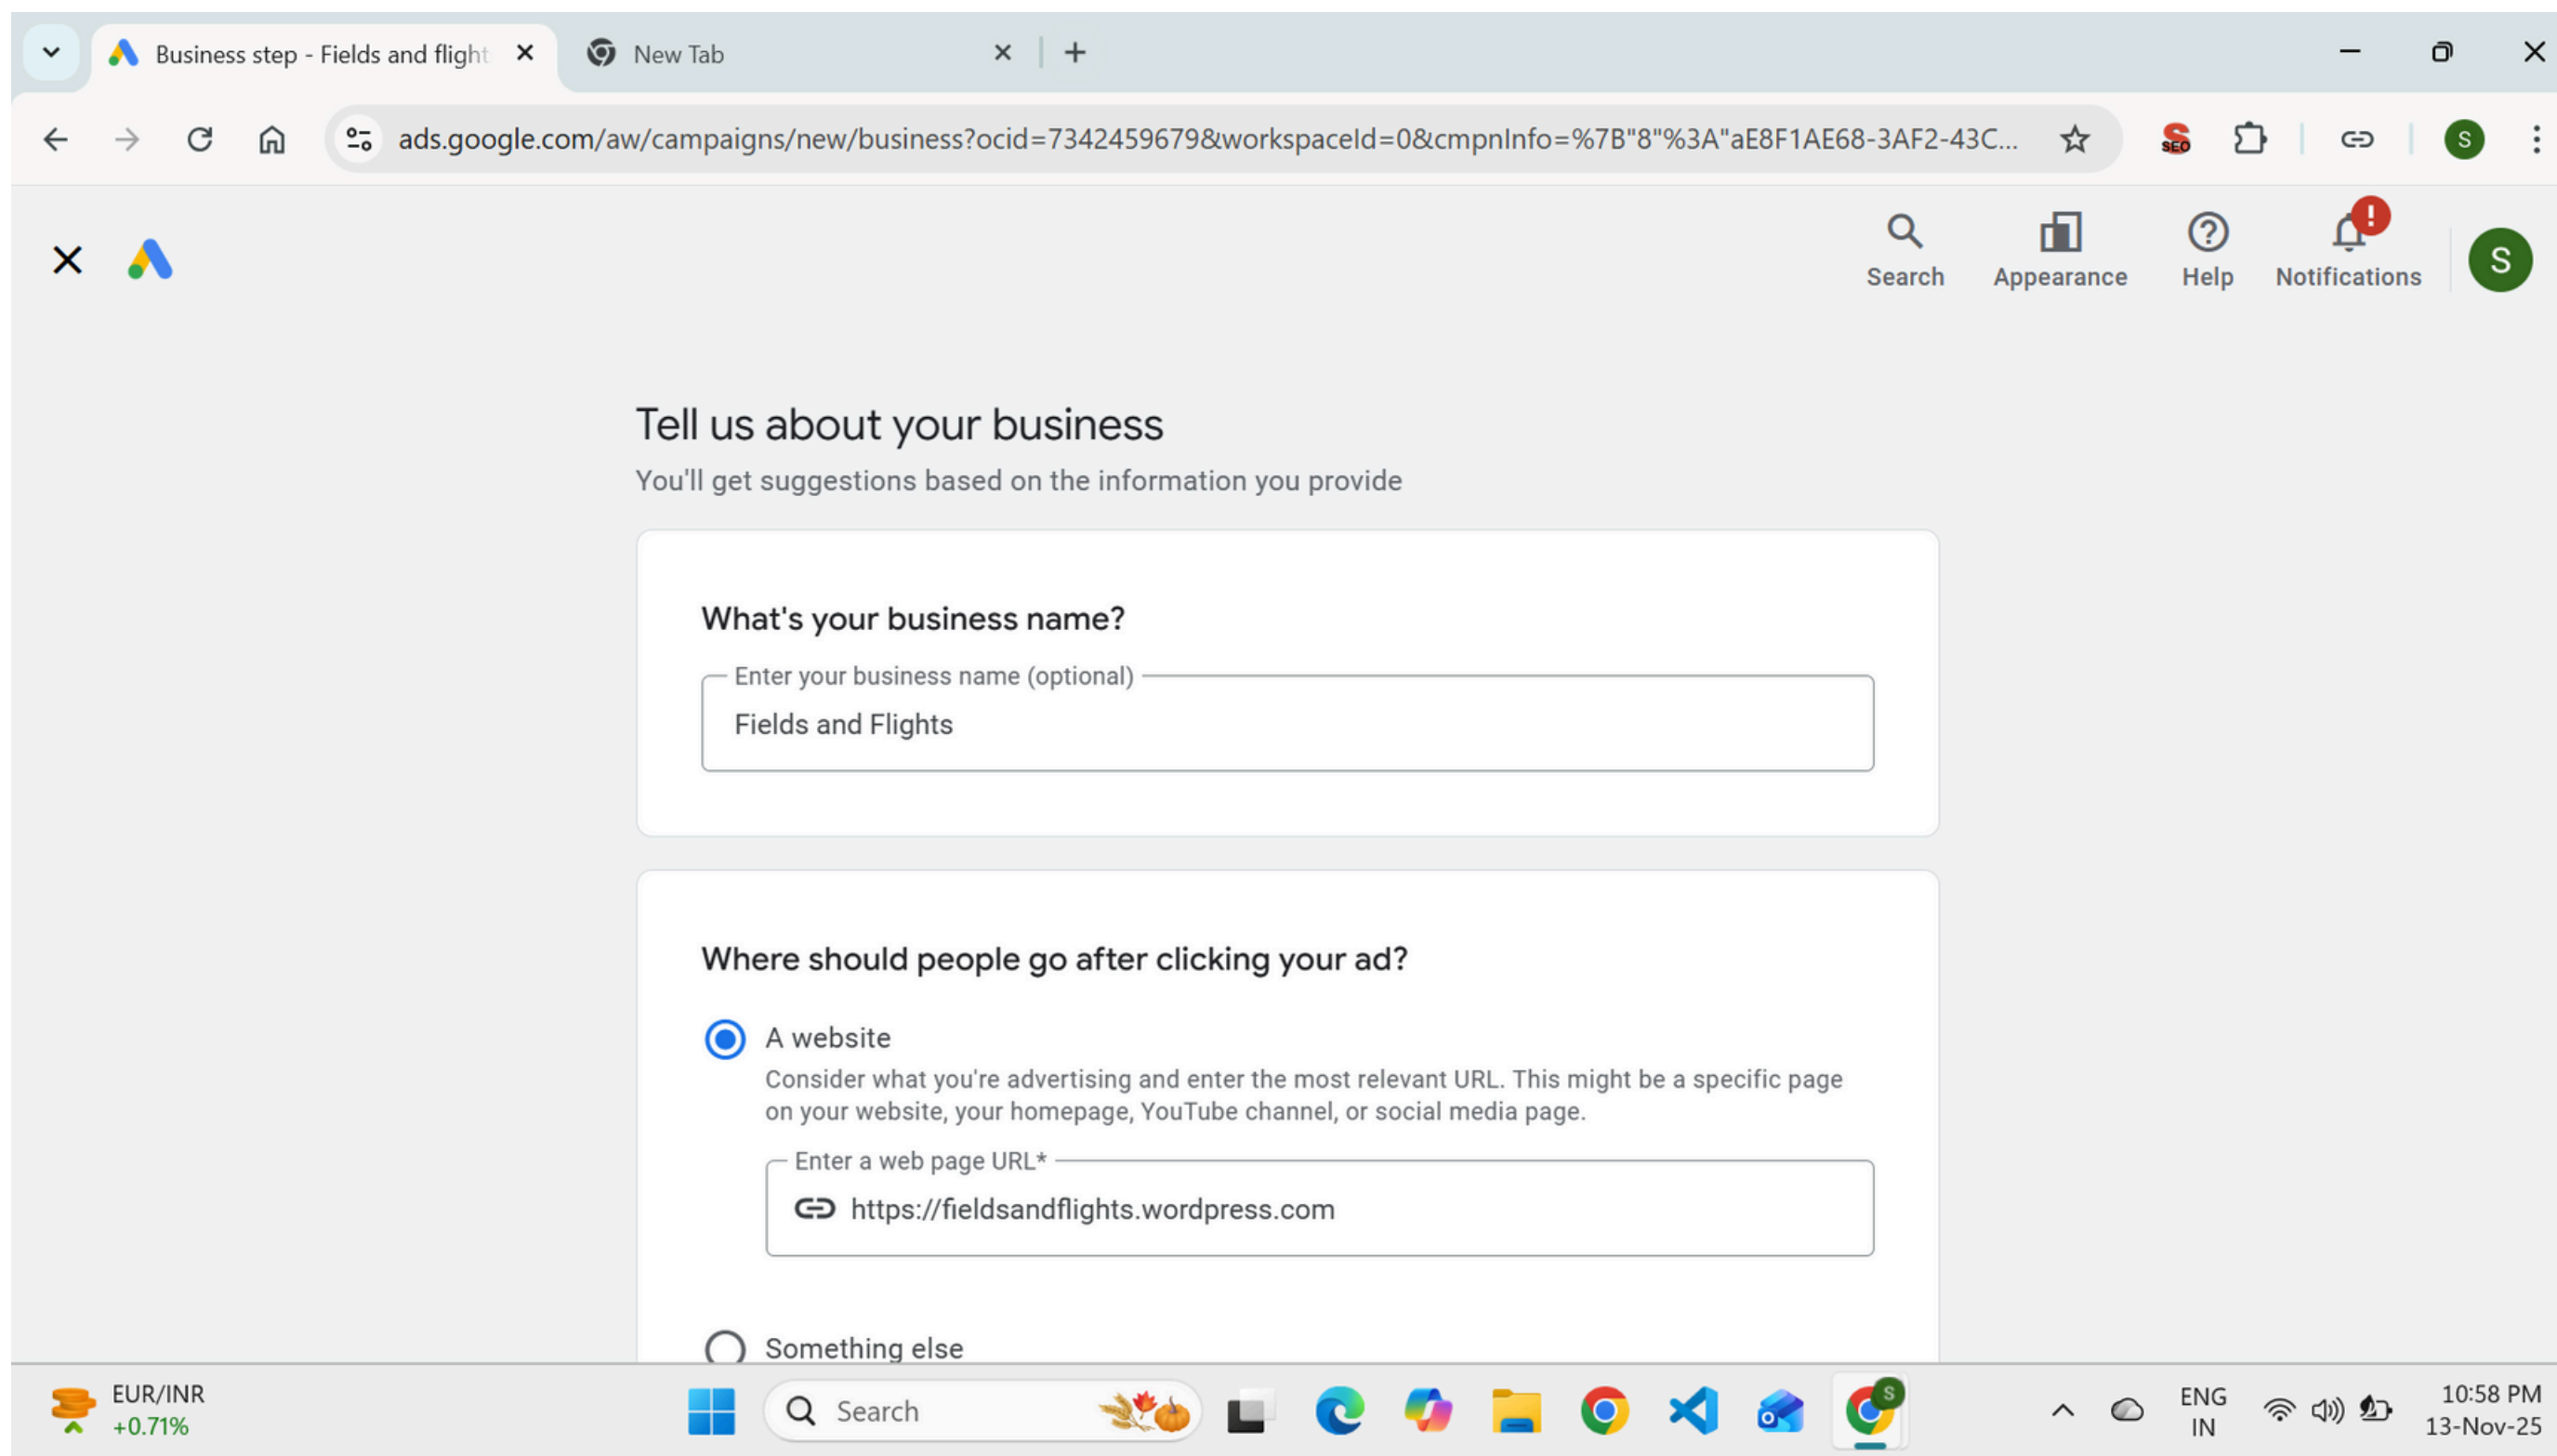

1. Set up your call assets or call ads

To measure calls from your ads, you'll need at least one call asset, location asset with a call option or a call ad, and make sure your call asset or call ad uses a Google forwarding number.

What do you want to focus on? ⓘ

Conversions ▼

☐ Set a target cost per action (optional)

Alternative bid strategies like portfolios are available in settings after you create your campaign

Customer acquisition

☐ Bid for new customers only

Your campaign will be limited to only new customers, regardless of your bid strategy

By default, your campaign bids equally for new and existing customers. However, you can configure your customer acquisition settings to optimize for acquiring new customers. Learn more about

Your budget is lower than other advertisers' budgets, which may affect performance. Try raising it to at least ₹2,875.00 per day

For the month, you won't pay more than your daily budget times the average number of days in a month. Some days you might spend less than your daily budget, and on others you might spend up to twice as much. Learn more
